Seen & Heard Around Murray

One regrettable feature of these times is the speed with which things go on. One simply does not have time to stop and hear a good recount of things gone by, an incident which brings pleasure to both the teller and the listener.

People seem to be caught up in their primary endeavor, that of making a living and this fact of making a living has almost taken the place of living itself.

Days seem to be so hectic that at evening, one is literally wrung out, physically and emotionally. One is content to merely collapse into a heap and gradually become recharged and revitalized like an old battery that you almost run down trying to get the car started, but after waiting a while the battery seems to gain new energy with which to discharge its duties.

These cool nights will get cooler with telling effects on outside plants. Our Petunias, also.

Tigers Are Ready For Grove High

The Murray High Tigers have worked hard all this week in preparation for their game at Paris Friday night.

Although they were victorious in their opener with Crittenden County, the coaches feel that the team must improve rapidly if they hope to give a good account of themselves the rest of the year.

Five of their remaining opponents are now ranked higher in the rating systems than the Tigers.

Crittenden was unable to test the Tiger defense, but they used practically a nine man line that slowed the Tiger running attack especially in the first part of the game.

The Murray blocking was not as sharp as expected and they hope to improve this week.

The Murray passing attack was good with several boys doing a fine job of throwing and pass receiving.

The Grove team, coached by Jim Cullinan, is always tough and this year will be no exception. Murray High fans and team expect a good game between these two old rivals.

Game time will be 8 o'clock in Paris. All tickets will be on sale at the gate for $1.25 adult and 75¢ student.

Witnesses To Testify On Fortas' Past

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Senators called a phalanx of new witnesses today — including past and present presidential advisers — to further study the relationship of Justice Abe Fortas and President Johnson.

The Senate Judiciary Committee called the witnesses as a result of new charges by Sen. Robert Griffin, R-Mich., who is the leader of the tough opposition to Fortas' appointment as chief justice.

Griffin seeks to prove that Fortas is unfit for the job as head of the high court, among other reasons because he acted as an ex-officio adviser to President Johnson while he was on the Supreme Court bench.

Fortas critics claim this constituted a gross breach of the doctrine of separation of the executive branch and the judiciary.

Called before the committee today were Richard Goodwin, former aide to Presidents Kennedy and Johnson and more recently the resident strategist for Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy; Treasury Undersecretary Joseph Barr; Mr. Devier Pieson, and deputy counsel to Johnson; and Daniel Yergin, a writer for New York magazine.

All were mentioned in the newest charges by Griffin — that Fortas engaged in extracurricular activities at the White House on the Supreme Court bench.

Johnson nominated Fortas to succeed retiring Chief Justice Earl Warren June 26. The committee agreed Wednesday to take a vote on whether to submit the nomination to the full Senate for confirmation next Tuesday.

It seemed a virtual certainty it would do so. But first, it wants to know more about Griffin's charges.

Celtics May Pay Russell $200,000

BOSTON (UPI) — Next week-end could be an expensive one for the owners of the world champion Boston Celtics of the National Basketball Association.

AT THAT time contract negotiations will be resumed with Celtics' player-coach Bill Russell who is winding up a summer of movie-making in Hollywood.

The talks are expected to produce the most expensive single contract in professional basketball history.

The lanky, bearded kingpin of the NBA champions has returned to California and will drive east late in the week, according to Celtics' general manager Arnold "Red" Auerbach.

THE FORMER Celtics' coach said Monday he expected to sit down with Russell and the big center's lawyer either late this week or early next week to work on a pact which speculation has placed as high as $200,000 for next season.

Auerbach said only one other member of the team that shocked the Philadelphia 76ers in last spring's NBA playoffs had not yet agreed to terms for the 1968-69 season. He is guard Larry Siegfried, who was injured during part of last season and who failed to sign following one season with Auerbach recently.

Dark Had To Change His Plans To Defeat Twins

By GREG GALLO
UPI Sports Writer

All Alvin Dark wanted to do was sacrifice, but things just didn't work out that way.

With men on first and second and none out in the 12th inning Wednesday night, Dark let pitcher Vincente Romo try and bunt the runners over. But Romo failed on his two attempts to sacrifice and the Cleveland manager went to his bench.

Dark called on the fifth and last of his pinch-hitters, Lou Johnson, who has not started a game since Aug. 30th, delivered a clutch single into left field to score Chico Salmon from second base with the only run of the game as the Indians nipped the Minnesota Twins 1-0.

"We wanted to move the runners up with the bunt but we couldn't," Dark commented after the game. "So, I figured we'd better get a guy who had a chance to drive them in."

Johnson was his man. The victory went to Romo who raised his record to 4-3.

Orleans Win Two

In other American League games, Baltimore swept Washington, 6-1, and 4-1. New York defeated Chicago, 7-2, Detroit dominated California, 8-2, and Oakland edged Boston, 3-2, in 12 innings.

In the National League, New York shut out Chicago, 1-0, Cincinnati took Houston twice, 5-1, and 11-6, Philadelphia beat Pittsburgh, 8-6, before dropping the second game of the double-header, 6-4, Atlanta downed San Francisco, 5-1, and St. Louis nipped Los Angeles, 5-4.

Jim Hardin won his 19th game of the season and Boog Powell and Brooks Robinson each drove in two runs in Baltimore's first game victory.

In the nightcap, Dave Johnson slammed a three-run homer in the 10th inning to complete the Orioles' sweep.

The Yankees took advantage of four White Sox errors while scoring seven runs in the sixth inning to give Fritz Peterson his 11th victory of the year.

Bill Melton hit his first major league homer for Chicago in the ninth inning.

Willie Horton slugged his 33rd and 34th homers of the season and Bill Freehan chipped in with his 22nd to lead the league-leading Tigers to victory.

Left-hander John Hiller, 8-5, went all the way for Detroit.

Speedy Al Lewis stole third base and scored the winning run on Bert Campaneris' sacrifice fly in the 12th inning as Jim Lohmberg, who gave up only six hits while going the distance, was saddled with his seventh loss against five victories.

BOATING

By JACK WOLISTON

NEW YORK (UPI)—The pleasure boat industry, like its automobile counterpart, has begun announcing its 1969 models.

Among the first to unveil its next year's line is Chrysler Corp., whose marine products include boats and inboard and outboard engines.

The boat line features seven all-new models with cathedral hulls in a series of 14, 15 and 16-foot fiberglass craft. The series includes two runabouts, a utility and a pair of bowriders. All are outboard boats, but the 16-footers also are available with inboard-outboard power.

Altogether, the 1969 Chrysler boat line totals 44 basic models of fiberglass and aluminum craft ranging from 12' to 24 feet in length.

Chrysler also offers three models of fiberglass sailboats—a 16-footer and two at 13 feet. Chrysler's outboard engine line includes four models with horsepower ratings not previously offered—85, 70, seven and five. The 1969 line adds up to a total of 39 models ranging from 3½ to 105 horsepower.

The new 85 and 70 are three-cylinder engines and Chrysler labels the 85 "the most powerful three-cylinder outboard on the market." And it claims the 70 "will outrun any other outboard in its class."

The Chrysler inboard line for 1969 includes five new engines and a new outdrive. The new models include two four-cylinder power plants, two V8s and a "six."

The four-cylinder models are 122-cubic inch engines—the Chrysler-Volvo 130 inboard-outdrive and the Chrysler-Volvo 115 inboard. A 225-horsepower V8 and a 155 horsepower "six" have been introduced as both inboard and outboard-outdrive models, and there is a

Braves Are Out Of The Race But Aaron Is Still Moving

By FRED McMANE
UPI Sports Writer

The count is over for the Atlanta Braves, but for their slugging star, Hank Aaron, the magic number is 10.

The 34-year-old Aaron, hitting only .231 at the July All-Star break, moved to within 10 points of the coveted 300 mark Wednesday night when he slammed out three hits in four at bats, including his 27th homer of the year, to lead the Braves to a 3-1 victory over the San Francisco Giants.

Aaron's heroics moved him closer to some personal goals, but, although the Braves won, they were eliminated from the National League pennant race when the St. Louis Cardinals edged the Los Angeles Dodgers, 5-4.

In other NL games, Cincinnati swept a doubleheader from Houston, 5-1 and 11-6, Philadelphia beat Pittsburgh, 8-6, in 13 innings, then lost, 6-4, and New York blanked Chicago, 1-0.

Baltimore tripped Washington twice, 6-1 and 4-1, New York beat Chicago, 7-2, Cleveland edged Minnesota, 1-0, in 12 innings, Detroit topped California, 8-2, and Oakland nipped Boston, 3-2, in 12 innings, in American League games.

High Lifetime Mark

Aaron, who has batted over .300 in 10 seasons and owns a .316 lifetime batting average, set his sights on 300 on the mid-season break and has been steady, if unspectacular, throughout the second half of the season.

Pat Jarvis was the beneficiary of Wednesday's win and gained his 16th triumph in 25 decisions with a four-hitter.

Aaron's homer was the 506th of his career and sent him into eighth place on the all-time total bases list ahead of Jimmy Fox.

Bob Gibson won his 21st game and Lou Brock doubled home two runs in the second inning as the Cardinals reduced their magic number for clinching their second consecutive NL pennant to four.

Gary Nolan pitched a seven-hitter and Lee May belted a three-run double in the seventh inning as the Reds took the opener. The victory was Nolan's ninth against two losses.

Six-Run Inning

The Reds erupted for six runs in the eighth inning of the nightcap to break a 5-5 tie. Reliever Ted Abernathy picked up his 10th victory in 15 decisions.

Bill White's run-scoring single and Gary Sutherland's pinch-hit, two-run double sparked a three-run rally in the 13th inning that provided the Phillies margin of victory in the opener.

But, Steve Blass got the Pirates a split in the nightcap by posting his 15th victory of the season and sixth in a row.

Jim McAndrew, victimized by lack of support since joining the Mets, allowed only two hits in 8 1-3 innings to win his second game in nine decisions as New York edged the Cubs.

Why We Carry GANT

There's more than fabric superiority in Gant. In addition, "needled into the warp and woof of every Gant shirt," there's flair, fit and show—three vital ingredients that make all the difference when a man wears a Gant.

We chose Gant, because they take shirtmaking seriously. They're hard to please (like we are) when it comes to fit of collar, its roll, its profile—how much it shows above the suit collar. They're fastidious about the way the body of the shirt drapes and folds. All must integrate to achieve that viable ingredient which gives comfort and aplomb. In substance, Gant shirts are keyed to the discerning tastes of well-groomed men who appreciate quality. These men are our customers.

FASHIONETTES

By United Press International

The mid-length coat isn't purely a female fashion for autumn 1968. It appears in men's wear in double-breasted Donegal tweed greatcoats, shaped in the manner of Edwardian officers' coats.

A new way to stake one's claim — wearing his and her look alike. The trend is turning up in twin shirts, turtle-neck sweaters, and even suits. For his and her beach coats, run them up in cotton terry, which comes in prints including leopard, stripes, checks and solids.

The female fashion look these days is fluid. Skirts float, drape and swirl. Necklines plunge and belts circle the waist or move higher to become an integral part of the silhouette.

Teens like to "do their thing" in costume-y look clothes. For fall, you'll see them in everything from a silk-embroidered goatskin sleeveless jacket edged in black lamb and lined in Mongolian goat fur to a "continental" mid-length canvas raincoat. The aviator look flies in with leather jackets teamed with knickers to make neo-Lindbergh outfits, in long fly-away scarves, attache cases and canvas boots to complete the "early fliers" effect.

With men's clothes fitting more closely and pocket space often at a premium, one solution is the Western "handbag." These are styled as holster-type carryalls that hang low on the hip, cowboy style.

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: My mother died 2 years ago, and my father got married again last May. He married a very nice woman and I like her a whole lot. But Abby, I just can't call her "Mamma." I have tried, but when I do it makes me feel so bad I have to go away somewhere and cry alone. I loved my own mother so much, no one will ever be able to take her place. I have three younger brothers, and when I hear them call Daddy's new wife "Mamma," it hurts me so bad inside.

I don't have anything against this lady, but I just can't call her "Mamma." What should I do? SAD 12-YEAR-OLD

DEAR TWELVE: Your Daddy's new wife doesn't expect you to love her as you did your own mother, nor does she want you to "hurt inside." So don't make comparisons, and don't feel guilty if you can't call her "Mamma." This woman has come into your home to make your Daddy happy and to help him raise his children. She must be a wonderful woman. Give her a chance.

DEAR ABBY: After a long, unhappy marriage which ended in divorce, I married a widower. He is a very successful small town merchant who is very much admired in his community and church. We are very happy, but here is my problem:

I find that my husband pockets a part of each day's cash sales to avoid paying so much income tax.

How serious an offense is this, and what can happen to him if he is caught? I dare not ask anyone but you. Please answer in the paper and tell me what to do. I love him. WORRIED

DEAR WORRIED: This is a VERY serious offense, and if caught, he can be fined and sent to prison. So if you love this crook, tell him to keep his duke out of the cash register.

DEAR ABBY: My husband's sister, Marcella, and I have been very close for years, so naturally, when Marcella became engaged, I expected her to ask me to be a bridesmaid at her wedding. You can imagine how hurt I was when she passed me by and asked her fiancé's two sisters who both live out-of-state. I wouldn't have minded so much but she had never met either one of them.

As it turned out, one of the girls cannot make the wedding, so now Marcella has asked ME to be a bridesmaid. I have been so hurt by this that I don't know what to do. Can you advise me? SECOND CHOICE

DEAR SECOND: If it would give you pleasure to be Marcella's bridesmaid, accept. You would gain nothing by turning her down just to show your "hurt."

CONFIDENTIAL TO "BORED AND BLUE" IN PHOENIX: The best cure I know for boredom and the blues is to turn one's attention to those who have "real" troubles. Get interested in hospital volunteer work, or crippled children, or mental health, or the disadvantaged. Just listening to someone else's problems can be the best medicine in the world for both of you.

Everybody has a problem. What's yours? For a personal reply write to Abby, Box 69706, Los Angeles, Cal. 90069 and enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Mr. and Mrs. Edd Ward of Beach Grove Community, Olive Driver Lane, Mayfield, celebrated their 65th Wedding Anniversary on Friday, August 23.

The Wards were married in Henry County, Tennessee, by a Justice of the peace on August 23, 1903.

They are the parents of four sons and four daughters, Jimmy Ward of Mayfield, Govie Ward of Beach Grove Community, Olive Driver Lane, Mayfield, and the late J. T. Ward; Mrs. Lathel Paschell of Mayfield, Mrs. Nettie Ann Haynes of Cuba, and Mrs. Jewell Hohn of St. Charles, Missouri, and the late Mrs. Ethel Forrest.

They have twenty-one grandchildren, twenty-two great-grandchildren and one great-great-grandchild.

Mrs. Darlene Ford, president, presided over the regular meeting of the Gamma Gamma chapter of Beta Sigma Phi sorority held Monday evening at the Community Center.

The minutes of the last meeting were read by Mrs. Martha Gardner and the treasurer's report was given by Mrs. Carol Sims. A member of the service committee reported on the service project coming up September 25. Nine members volunteered to bake birthday cakes for the soldiers at the hospital at Fort Campbell.

Ways and means chairman, Mrs. Martha Alls, began a donation drive among the members that will extend through April 1969 and at that time a tail-jeweled pin will be given to one of the lucky members.

Mrs. Judy Hina, program chairman, reported that the program given at the next meeting would be presented by Mrs. Veronica Ross and Mrs. Kaye Stafford entitled "Speech."

Mrs. Sylvia Thomas, vice-president and membership chairman, reported that October 14 would be another open meeting for members to bring guests.

Publicity chairman, Mrs. Veronica Ross, suggested that the chapter check into purchasing "Welcome Beta Sigma Phi" signs from International Headquarters for the major entrances into Murray.

A letter received from International Headquarters awarding the chapter with a three-star rating which is the highest award any chapter can achieve was read to all of the members.

The program, "Oratory" was presented by Mrs. Veronica Ross and Mrs. Judy Wall. Its major point was to assist the other members in the proper way of presenting their programs for the coming year.

TV CAMEOS: The Goldiggers

For The Diggers, Life Is a Great Big Ball

The Goldiggers usually are put-on satirists, but here with Frank Sinatra Jr. they're just full of girlish sweetness and light.

By MEL HEIMER

NINETY-NINE per cent of the time, you can forget those stories about the overnight success in show business; there just isn't such animal. Years of hard work are behind each apparent meteor—except, as the exception to prove the rule, there now are a dozen handsome young ladies loose on your TV screen: the Goldiggers.

As recently as last spring, there were no Goldiggers. Then Greg Garrison, who produces the Dean Martin show and also its summer replacement, "Dean Martin Presents the Goldiggers," advertised for talented amateurs or semi-pros that he could form into a group. Out of 400 applicants, the delicious dozen were chosen—and whoosh! Mr. Garrison had a full-fledged batch of overnight successes.

"NONE OF US really had done anything," says dark-haired, almost garrulous Debi (Spooky) McFarland. "Nor had we been anywhere. Oh, we all could sing and dance, and some of us had a little summer stock experience and so on, and one or two of the girls even had done a TV commercial or two. But for all practical purposes, we were total beginners—and it's been wonderful!"

It must be. The girls, bright and bubbly and one of the freshest collections of talent to hit video in some time, have received great reviews, have taped ten of the summer shows, have played fairs and nightclubs throughout the country and Canada—and it's not over yet.

"WE'RE BOOKED to do two of the regular Dean Martin shows this fall," says Susan Lund (Poopies) of Houston, Tex., who looks like a young Betsy Blair, "and then we've got lots more club appearances lined up, including the Coconut Grove in Los Angeles, right through Christmas time."

What it all amounts to, as far as the Diggers go, is one great big ball. "Only one of us ever has been out on the road," says Debbie Thomason, a serene, good-looking blonde. "None of us really ever has been to all the places we've worked in, this summer."

"Of course, we run up some monumental telephone bills. Many of the girls have boy friends back home on the West Coast, where most of us come from, and they're always on the phone. But it's almost worth it, this being away; we've worked in the same shows with Jack Benny, Al Hirt, Anita Bryant, Bobby Vinton and Eddie Albert." Garrison is called "Sugar Daddy" by the Diggers, and they all seem to love him. He's as professional as they are amateur; a product of Libertyville, Ill., he has produced and directed more than 1,200 variety shows and 200 TV dramas over the last 20 years.

The Diggers' success, Greg says, "happened very fast." "I'd attribute the interest in the girls to word of mouth publicity," he adds. "A theatrical agent would stroll onto the set. He'd catch their act and then he'd describe it to somebody else."

TOGETHER with Lee Hale, the Diggers' musical director, Garrison formed Domino Productions for the girls, thus setting up an independent, self-sustaining company that amounts to a trust fund for the dozen dillies. All the Diggers are single, all have identical luggage and each wears a badge reading "My name is —, I am a Goldigger." This late summer and fall, they'll be in Detroit, Abilene, Tex., Wichita, Kan., Vancouver, Miami and Portland, Ore., before homing back to Coconut Grove for the engagement stretching through New Year's.

1906 Death Sentence Ushered in New Life

By JACK K. GRAEME

ALBUQUERQUE, N.M. (UPI)—Sixty-two years ago Baltimore shoe salesman William Thaxton was told he had no more than six months to live.

Thaxton, who was suffering from tuberculosis at the time, plans to be around for his 91st birthday next January in Albuquerque.

Although he was supposed to die in 1906, Thaxton has outlived his eight brothers and sisters.

After hearing the news that bleak day in 1906, Thaxton just went home and waited for the end. But then he read an article that a small town in the New Mexico Territory named Albuquerque had a climate beneficial for TB sufferers.

On an impulse, he and his wife moved to the small community of 8,000. It was the right decision.

Arriving in the New Mexico Territory, Thaxton carved a new life for himself, going into the real estate business, starting his own mortgage company, and even serving as a state senator.

Finally, at the age of 90, he decided it was time to slow down so he gave up his post on the board of directors of one of Albuquerque's largest banks. Now, 62 years after he was told he would die, Thaxton said he would go back to thinking about the possibility of dying some time.

"I'm waiting for my time," he said.

MEN'S WEAR

Young Actor Wields Influence on Fashion

By WALTER LOGAN

NEW YORK (UPI)—Christopher Jones, who once made a movie which Variety called a "chilling political science fiction drama, with comedy," has become a young teen-age idol who is likely to influence fashions for years to come.

In the movie "Wild in the Streets" he was a rock and roller singer who became President of the United States, and he of course wore rock and roll clothes. In private life he tends towards the Edwardian with a touch of Regency and the result is considerably more elegant.

Jones, barely in his 20s, was born in Jackson, Tenn., the son of a part-time construction worker and mechanic. His mother died when he was three and he was placed in an orphanage in Memphis, an event which might have nurtured his rebellious streak.

Clothes were of no great interest to him in his formative years and he was known as something of a rebel when he stopped around a Memphis high school in long hair and dunebats and only cut his hair when he entered the army for three years, serving in an armored division.

Somewhere along the line the acting bug bit him and he became an actor and first thing he knew he was Jesse James in the television series "The Legend of Jesse James" and it was then the clothing bug bit him.

"I started buying everything in sight," he said, "but unfortunately it wasn't always the right thing. I was running around Hollywood in such things as buckskin trousers, cosack shirts, boots and beads but varied it once when somebody put me into a Brioni Italian suit."

"The more I got to thinking about clothes the more important I realized they were. I had always liked the way they dressed in the 18th century with boots to the knees, tight pants and very fitted jackets with a lot of flair and I got to thinking about it."

George Raft wore jackets like that, but his pants were floppy. Anyway, I decided on an Edwardian look and that is what I have been buying.

I think the ordinary person will wear more and more of the high styles they see in the men's wear magazines and they will get more and more flamboyant."

Samples

Jones showed us some of the clothes he has been buying recently and if they all weren't flamboyant they sometimes came close. But with the long hair affected by young men of his age he could have come from the 18th century he likes so much.

One number was a coat with coachman's lapels—wide and floppy—attached to an eight button double breasted jacket and in a rich brown color, from a Hollywood shop called Le Dernier Cri.

And from the same shop was a single-breasted gray coat worn with a vest in district checks and as elegant as some of the clothes worn by Mississippi River gamblers at the turn of the century. There also was a gray single-breasted coat from Rome with four patch pockets and button down flaps and woven in a sort of waffle weave.

He was wearing a Regency style suit in a very dark brown with a Bal collar and a shirt in a tan military color with a very spread collar. With it he wore one of the new very wide neckties in striped brocade and again the effect was Edwardian.

We asked him how he had spent the morning and the answer was shopping: a white hopsack suit lined with blue silk and with it a dark blue shirt and a blue and white striped tie. But he planned to wear a white scarf instead of a tie. And with it—Italian boots, very Edwardian.

Senior Soldiers
DES MOINES (UPI)—During the Civil War, an infantry unit was made up of Iowa volunteers past military age.

The average age of the members of the 37th Iowa Volunteer Infantry was 57. More than 100 members were in their 60s, a number were 70 and at least one man was past 80. The Graybeards, as they were called, served as prison and provost guards to relieve younger men for active duty.

TWO-NA—Fran Powers poses at Galilee, R.I., with the two tuna—526 and 587 pounds—she caught in less than an hour off Nebraska Shoals. She boated the 526-pounder in 26 minutes and the 587-pounder in 22 minutes.

registration will be conducted at the old Douglass Elementary School, North Second Street, now owned by Tappan Company.

Dave Willis, President of the Civic Improvement Club has been instrumental in working with Robert Moyer of Tappan Company in obtaining the building and facilities for Head Start. This action on the part of Mr. Willis, Mr. Moyer, and the interested parent group has made a place available for the re-opening and operation of the Murray Head Start program.

The program is on a continuation basis with last year's four-year-olds enrolling as this year's five-year-olds students. The program is planned to follow as closely as possible the public school calendar. O.E.O. has established guidelines to be followed in the selection of the thirty children who will be enrolled. Two classrooms will be provided for the Head Start program, with approximately 15 children in each room.

The staff members consist of the following: Head Teacher, Mrs. Charla Ellison; teacher aides, Mrs. Linda Duffy and Mrs. Raymelle Walls; social worker's aide, Mrs. Artie Petty; and lunchroom cook, Mrs. Ida Bell Perry.

Mrs. Eula Mae Doberty, Supervisor of Murray Public Schools, works with the staff in coordinating the Head Start program.

Mrs. Stanley Thorpe, Chairman for the Policy Advisory Committee, and Mrs. Artie Petty, social worker's aide for Head Start, are contacting parents and interested community volunteers to assist in making rooms and grounds ready for opening on Monday. All those wishing to be of assistance may come to the school on Thursday and Friday, September 12 and 13 between the hours of 8:30 a.m. and 2:30 p.m. Your help will contribute greatly to a successful opening for the Head Start children. The staff will be at the school making preparation for pre-registration. Application for pre-enrollment may be obtained at the city Superintendent's office at Poplar and Ninth Streets, or at the school on Thursday and Friday. School will officially open for enrolled children on Tuesday, September 17 at 8:30. A light breakfast and lunch will be served to the children beginning Tuesday.

Trumpeter swans generally live longer than most waterfowl, some records indicating a life span of 50 years.

Flint Baptists To Have Revival Meet

Revival services will begin at Flint Baptist Church Sunday, September 15, and continue through Sunday, September 22. The evangelist will be Rev. James Tharp, pastor of the High Point Baptist Church, in Mayfield.

Services will begin each evening at 7:30, with the song service to be directed by William B. Miller with Mrs. Bobbie Garrison as pianist.

The church and pastor, Willie Johnson, extend a cordial welcome to everyone who can attend.

COUNTY...

The Grand Jury would respectfully recommend that arrangements be made for the next Grand Jury to inspect the interior of the building since the building was locked, and this Grand Jury was able to inspect only the outside. It was reported to the Grand Jury that the roof was in bad condition and that some of the rafters were broken and in need of repair.

County Farm
"The County Farm is being well-kept, and the two inmates presently there appear to be comfortable. We recommend that screen doors at the County Farm be repaired and that immediate attention be given to the well-located on the County Farm. We were advised that the County Health Department and the Fiscal Court are presently attempting to correct the water supply at the County Farm, and we respectfully urge that this matter be given immediate attention and be corrected as soon as possible.

Health Center
"The Health Center is a modern building, very clean, which has just been redecorated and furnished with new lights. The suggestions made by a previous Grand Jury in regard to this building appear to have been followed, and the criticisms corrected. However, we did notice eight broken windows.

Courthouse
"The Courthouse, although an old building (1913), is in good condition. We did observe that the columns on each side of the building need repair, that the porch ceilings need repairing, and we urge that attention be given immediately to the Child Welfare office on the second floor. This office needs some plastering and painting immediately. Mrs. Coburn is to be commended for the condition of the Women's restroom.

County Jail
"The Grand Jury finds this new building well-constructed, satisfactory, and a credit to our County. This Grand Jury wishes to commend the Fiscal Court for this progressive step and to commend Mr. and Mrs. Wimpy Jones for the attractive appearance of both the Jail and the Courthouse.

Dog Pound
"We find the Dog Pound at the County Farm to be in a satisfactory condition."

Respectfully Submitted:
Leroy Eldridge, Foreman
Calloway County Grand Jury

though some are still lush, are feeling the effects of continual blossoming and the cool nights will soon take their toll.

However the Marigolds are getting more lush if possible, with fifty to one hundred buds on them. These hardy plants, exposed by Senator Dirksen, will literally bloom until frost stills them.

Abe Fortas continues to be a controversial figure. His approval appears to be more distant now. Remember that a Supreme Court judge is named for life and once he is in, there is little way to remove him. If a good segment of people don't want him, then Congress should not approve him by a narrow margin.

Fortas has invoked constitutional protection and will not answer certain questions put to him by the Congress. What has this man got to hide that he refuses to answer questions? Every citizen can invoke the Fifth Amendment if he chooses, but only those who have something to hide ever actually invoke it.

backyard" of Rainey T. Wells, founder and second president of the college. Today the "backyard" is the campus.

With Dr. John W. Carr as first president, the Murray State Normal School opened its doors September 24, 1923, with 178 students and a faculty of five, including two part-time teachers.

When Dr. Woods became president in the fall of 1945, the war-depleted student body had decreased to 565. Last fall, 22 years later, the enrollment was 7,017.

Sparks, who will be one of the speakers at the banquet, recently said: "Each day I work in the office of the president, I become more conscious of the greatness of Dr. Ralph H. Woods. Under his leadership 51 major buildings have been erected to facilitate the university's purposes. Outstanding scholars have been recruited to teach those who enroll here."

While Dr. Woods was president, Murray State Teachers College in 1948 became "Murray State College." Then in 1966, by legislative enactment, the title was changed to "Murray State University."

Atty. Thomas Waller of Paducah will be principal speaker at the appreciation dinner. A long-time friend of Dr. Woods, Mr. Waller is well acquainted with the achievements of Murray's president emeritus.

"Murray and Calloway County citizens have always cooperated in their biggest projects — the University and the Kentucky and Barkley Dams," a committee member remarked recently.

So at Kenlake Thursday evening, 200 grateful citizens will reflect upon the appropriateness of the banquet being held on the shores of Kentucky Lake. They will recall that Kentucky Dam was dedicated by President Truman in 1945 just a few days before Dr. Ralph H. Woods assumed the presidency of Murray State.

"In the 23 years intervening, Dr. Woods has played an important role not only in the University but in the development of the entire valley," a campus executive asserted, in summarizing the contributions of Murray's fourth president.

Hiram Tucker, Murray businessman and friend of Dr. Woods, is chairman of the "appreciation committee."
